

A Very Timely Cutting Edge Online Tele-Course like no other

Living As If Already Whole: Returning to the the Ascended State

Facilitated by Mark Stanton Welch

For much too long, we have lived as if we were flawed, a compromised design... stumbling through each incarnation, yearning for more, reaching for something we really could not fully envision. And how has this served you, personally?

The Celestial influx of high frequency energy has launched the reawakening as, moment by moment, we are remembering who we are. And still we think it must be step by step...until now!

10 people are invited to embark on a personalized journey of remembering and reclaiming the original design. You will be guided through a series of experiences as if you have already arrived and are just being you, in the Ascended state of Wholeness. Unique and cutting edge, you will step off the wheel of fixing limitations into the world of living in the expanded natural state for which this dimension was designed.

The information will be online in 17 progressive two week sessions. The ten travelers will each have personal weekly one on one phone calls of one hour with Mark where the information is presented and personally applied...

It is time to interrupt the winding journey and move straight into the Heart of the Magnificence of Your Own Design to explore what that is like. If this resonates with you, then contact Mark right away as there are only ten who will be on this inaugural adventure.

The 36 week course will consist of 17 specialized sessions taught over two weeks each. It is highly experiential and will also ask for your additional outside the class practice. Application of principles in a wide variety of ways will serve to replace the old patterns, which, in turn, will activate your deep inner knowing to deliver exactly what has been waiting within to be released and revealed. The experience will be an exploration of living in the new frequency of Wholeness. It may bring up elements within you that require further processing, for which additional services are available. This is an adventure unlike any other, with no precedent. Are you ready to find out just what you and this dimensional life are made of?
